

SPECIAL CONNECTIONS

In 2002 when Andrea (Wensowitch) Campbell-Colquhoun (2004, B. S. Business Administration) was a sophomore at TWU, Dr. Richard Nicholas, Vice President of Student Life encouraged her to take advantage of a unique European study abroad opportunity. Andrea watched a video about Harlaxton College in Grantham, England, a new international partner for TWU, and soon became the first TWU student to attend. “After watching the video and seeing the amazing Manor House, I became enchanted,” said Andrea. “It was everything I always imagined England to be, and I simply had to be there!”

For Andrea the experience was life changing. She became close friends with her “meet- a-family” sponsors who introduced her to English culture. While socializing with new found Harlaxton classmates, she met her future husband, Alex. After TWU graduation Andrea would eventually return to England to live, work and marry. Her wedding was held at Harlaxton. Bringing things full circle, Andrea has chosen a career in international education, assisting students with European study abroad experiences.

Alumni are invited to follow and comment on the experiences of current TWU students at Harlaxton during the fall 2009 semester by going to www.twu.edu/alumni and clicking on the TWU Harlaxton icon.
