

REGENTS SELECT DR. ANN STUART AS 10TH PRESIDENT

Following a public meeting on Thurs., Sept. 30, at DFW Airport, members of the Texas Woman's University board of regents voted to appoint Dr. Ann Stuart as 10th president of the nation's largest university primarily for women. Stuart, who currently serves as president of Rensselaer at Hartford in Connecticut, interviewed with the regents last week and was present to speak to the board after the vote. She will join TWU permanently some time in December but plans to make a number of visits to the university's campuses during the next 60 days in order to meet people and familiarize herself with the institution.

Kay Williams Goodman, chair of the presidential search advisory committee and chair of the TWU board of regents, said, "We are extremely happy to welcome Dr. Stuart as the next president/chancellor of Texas Woman's University as this special institution looks forward to its centennial celebration in 2001. The entire campus community-- faculty, staff and students in Denton, Dallas and Houston -- plus alumni, community leaders and friends, participated in open forums and spoke with our candidates. As TWU looks forward to its 100th birthday and the start of another century of service in higher education, we look forward to Dr. Stuart's leadership and vision as we move on." The president's position at TWU was vacated this winter when Dr. Carol Surles became president of Eastern Illinois University in Charleston, Ill. Dr. Beverley Byers-Pevitts (academic affairs) is serving as interim president.

Stuart -- who smiled enthusiastically and applauded the regents as they applauded her when the announcement was made -- said, "I am delighted at this opportunity. Delighted! It's a wonderful day. It's time now to build a proud future. We're going to do that together, and we're going to do that aggressively." She added, "TWU blends both the liberal arts and professional education, and both are a passion of mine. This is an opportunity to join the institution and help faculty, staff and students come into the next century. It is a joyous day!"

Goodman re-iterated her thanks to the university's faculty, staff and students -- as well as the presidential search advisory committee members-- for their participation in the process, as well as their responses. "It is my sincere belief that the search advisory committee fulfilled its mission with determination and devotion. Their attendance, attention to the needs of the university and their professionalism speak loudly to their commitment to the task. I am sincerely grateful for their work, as well as for the participation and interest of the campus communities. All that remains is my request that we all support Dr. Stuart as our new president as she faces both the joys of this unique institution and the challenges ahead."

A 16-member presidential search advisory committee comprising TWU regents, faculty, staff, students, alumni and community representatives began meeting this spring with the assistance of Spencer Stuart, an executive search firm that was hired by the TWU Foundation to help with the national search. The committee narrowed the list of more than 70 applicants to seven in August before members made their final recommendations to the board.

(Note: A printed copy of this story was distributed on Fri., Oct. 1, 1999)

/ / /

Volume 22, Number 29, April 19, 1999

OPEN FORUMS OFFER INPUT ON PRESIDENTIAL SEARCH

Last week, TWU faculty, staff, students and community members in Dallas, Houston and Denton shared with members of the presidential search advisory committee what characteristics and experience they would like the 10th president of TWU to possess. The committee first brought each group up-to-date about its work and asked participants to nominate persons for the position or to ask others to apply. The input from the meetings will be used by the committee to write the draft for a position description that will accompany a letter seeking nominations for the position.

Among those characteristics and experiences mentioned were: integrity; community involvement in the Denton, Dallas and Houston communities; ability to "put a face on TWU" in the legislature, in the state and across the United States; high visibility on campus; an advocate for diversity; knowledgeable and/or supportive of shared governance as it is understood in the realm of higher education; a role model for women; a visionary (not a micro-manager); energetic; collaborative (believes in a team approach); accessible; supportive of the needs of persons with disabilities; an advocate for higher education; someone with a sense of humor; and more.

Several process questions were asked, and Kathleen Gigl (institutional advancement), a member of the committee, stated that the group hopes to have a new president in place by fall 1999. However, the application process remains open throughout the search. Ads in the Chronicle of Higher Education and other publications should appear beginning April 23. Anyone with comments or suggestions may send them to the committee chair, Kay Williams Goodman, in care of the president's office in Denton.

*** **

DISABILITY ISSUES FOR WOMEN IS FOCUS OF HOUSTON EVENT

Did you know that 20 percent of American women live with significant disabling conditions, such as back disorders, arthritis, heart disease and orthopedic impairment? That women with physical disabilities encounter serious barriers to receiving general and reproductive health care? That abuse is a serious problem for women with disabilities because they have even fewer options for escaping or resolving the abuse than women in general?

These concerns and more will be topics for discussion during a symposium on "Health Issues for Women with Disabilities: An Interdisciplinary Approach." The program, TWU's 6th annual Research Day, will be held in Houston on Fri., April 23, from 8:30 a.m. to noon, MGJ 7th floor. Several nationally known experts will join TWU researchers to discuss topics such as orthopedic impairment, multiple sclerosis, back pain and frailty among the elderly, specifically women. Scientific data, combined with personal experience, will provide a multi-dimensional overview of health problems that are affecting an ever-growing number of women in the U.S.

continued

/ / /
TWU Update, Oct. 4, 1999, page 2

Biographical Sketch: Dr. Ann Stuart

Newly-appointed TWU President Dr. Ann Stuart has served as president of Rensselaer at Hartford (formerly the Hartford Graduate Center) since 1994. (Rensselaer at Hartford is an independent graduate school affiliated with Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute of Troy, N.Y.) She has managed a budget of $50 million, with programs in management and technology, computer science and engineering that enroll approximately 2,400 students; an additional 6,000 students are enrolled in professional and academic development programs. The institution has two off-campus facilities as well.

Stuart previously served as provost and vice president for academic affairs at Alma College (in Alma, Mich.) from 1990 to 1993; as dean of the School of Arts and Sciences at East Stroudsburg University in Pennsylvania from 1989 to 1990; and as assistant dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, project director and coordinator of writing at the University of Evansville (Ind.) during the period from 1979 to 1989.

She previously was a visiting professor in the department of computer technology at Purdue University from 1987 to 1988; and a professor and member of the faculty of the College of Arts and Sciences, the College of Graduate and Continuing Studies, and the honors program at the University of Evansville from 1962 to 1989. She also has taught drama, speech, debate and English at middle schools and high schools in Florida and Kentucky; that experience also includes directing school plays and coaching National Forensic League competitive student activities.

TWU's new president earned her undergraduate degree in English and theater from the University of Florida; her master's degree in English from the University of Kentucky; and her doctorate in English from Southern Illinois University. Her academic area of expertise is 17th-century English literature. She has been a consultant and also developed her own business, Data Tech, in Delaware and served as its president.

Stuart is the author or contract writer of six books and manuals, including The Technical Writer and Writing for Work. She has written several other publications, has served as a moderator for several state and national higher education conferences, and has been a featured speaker at more than 25 state and national workshops, conventions and programs.

Stuart is and has been involved in a number of community activities and boards in Connecticut, Michigan, Pennsylvania and Indiana, including United Way, Rotary International and a number of arts-related organizations. She currently is a member of the American Association for Higher Education, the American Council on Education, Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society, Alpha Sigma Lambda Honor Society, the Hartford Club, the Connecticut Women's Hall of Fame (founding member) and others.

She previously was a member of the American Association of University Administrators, the College Board, the National Council of Teachers of English, the American Society for Training and Development, the Association of Teachers of Technical Writing and others.

Stuart is married to Raymond Poliakoff; they live in Hartford, Conn., and have two grown children -- one is an elementary school teacher and the other is a corrections officer.

*** **

COLORS/ALUMNI PROGRAM SET

The offices of intercultural services and alumni relations at Texas Woman's University will co-sponsor a discussion panel for students enrolled in the COLORS mentoring program on Wed., Oct. 6, from 6:30 to 8 p.m. at TWU's Alumni House, located at 330 E. University Dr. in Denton (next to TWU's Guinn Hall). The event is part of an ongoing COLORS Mentoring and Advising program at TWU. The program -- Creating Opportunities for Leadership and Obtaining Racial Support -- was established to provide TWU freshmen and transfer students (protégés) a chance to share ideas with and learn from TWU faculty (advisors) outside the classroom setting.

The discussion panel allows students in the program to receive the added benefit of learning from successful university alumni. By participating in such an event, the alumni are in a unique position to share their personal stories and experiences. They have the chance to talk about the challenges they once faced and the key to their success.

The theme of the COLORS and alumni panel is "Diversity Issues at Work." Panel speakers include Ann Williams, Laura Estrada and Pat Devereaux.

- Williams, who graduated in 1968, is the TWU National Alumnae Association president. She also is the founder and artistic director of the Dallas Black Dance Theatre.
- Estrada, a 1974 graduate, is an active member of the TWU Foundation, a non-profit corporation committed to enhancing educational excellence at the university.
- Devereaux, who earned her bachelor's degree in 1990 and her master's degree in 1993, is a faculty member in the TWU department of history and government.

The TWU COLORS and alumni panel promotes the art of communication and the importance of embracing diversity and learning from each other. "We constantly stress the importance of being able to communicate in a diverse society," said Patrick Vasquez, TWU special assistant to the vice president of student life for intercultural services. "This program is a different way to motivate our freshmen."

The program is not open to the public; only TWU students currently participating in the COLORS program will be admitted. For more information, contact Vasquez in the TWU office of intercultural service at 8-1-3673 or Judy Prouty in the office of alumni relations at 8-1-2586.

*** **

TWU KICKS OFF BREAST HEALTH AWARENESS MONTH

TWU kicked off Breast Health Awareness Month last Friday with a proclamation and wreath ceremony honoring victims and survivors. Dr. Betty Adams (Nursing, Denton) read a proclamation from the Denton County Commissioners Court declaring October 1999 as Breast Health Awareness Month throughout Denton County. Additionally, October 1 was declared Breast Health Awareness Day at TWU.

Dr. Carolyn Gunning (Nursing, Denton) led the wreath dedication ceremony and said, "This wreath is placed here in memory of the many women who have died as a result of breast cancer and to honor those who have survived. It is here to encourage all women to seek regular medical check-ups to avoid falling victim to this preventable disease." Within the next month, the wreath will be moved to its permanent home on campus.

continued

/ / /
TWU Update, Oct. 4, 1999, page 4

BREAST CANCER, continued

Cheryl Loudermilk, a registered nurse, and case manager for the Breast Cancer and Cervical Cancer Prevention program in Denton and Tarrant counties attended. Actively involved in the TWU CARES Health Center BCCP program, Loudermilk works to raise breast health awareness. Her focus through TWU CARES is to help women ages 50 to 64 with their breast care needs. If they need help, funding for their examination is provided. Education and information on breast self-examination and annual screening is crucial, and emphasis is placed on the need to follow through, and not to give up. "You have to encourage these ladies. They think they don't have a problem, but you have to move them in a positive direction," said Loudermilk.

Breast cancer survivor Dr. Jan Jenkins, a dentist, told the audience about her ordeal, which began with the diagnosis of breast cancer in April of 1995. Because of the size of her tumor and other factors, Jenkins meet the criteria for three forms of treatment: chemotherapy, radiation and a bone marrow transplant. "Chemotherapy is like have 20 thousand margaritas all at one time," said Jenkins. "It is really strong and not a lot of fun. The experience changed my perspective and priorities -- I had to slow down and take time to look at the grass and flowers."

She stressed five key elements to breast care awareness: early detection; knowing your body; responding to warning signs (don't ignore things or say "oh, it's probably nothing"); be informed; and be your own advocate.

*** **

FIRST NIGHT FOR TWELFTH NIGHT SET

Twelfth Night, a comedy by William Shakespeare, will open at TWU this week at 8 p.m. on Oct. 6-9 and at 2 p.m. on Sun., Oct. 10, in Redbud Theatre. Tickets are $10 for adults; $7 for seniors and TWU faculty and staff; and $5 for TWU students. For reservations, call 8-1-2020.

Presented by the TWU department of performing arts program in drama, Twelfth Night is one of the Bard's most famous comic works; it involves everything from identical twins separated by a shipwreck to mistaken identities to thwarted loves to practical jokes and songs. Directed by Charles Harrill (performing arts, drama), the play features performances by TWU students Rina Lipscomb (Viola), Andy Gosnell (Sebastian), Brooke Evans (Olivia), Chris Shelton (Malvolio), Jennifer Bernard (Sir Toby Belch), Thomas Charles LeGalley (Sir Andrew Aguecheek), Danu Uribe (Maria), Helen Dewey Reikofski (Feste), Ron Cyphers (Count Orsino), Corey Ranson (the sea captain), and Anne Nocher (the cleric). Ashley Bower, Cory Blanton, Cris Galvan, Catherine Levacy, Lisa Niedermeyer, Zachary Schrotter, Nikki Silva and Jeff Peters have supporting roles.

*** **

MODERN MUSIC AND FLUTE WILL BE FEATURED

Twentieth-century music will be the focus of a flute concert by Dr. Pamela Youngblood (performing arts, music) on Tues., Oct. 12, at 8 p.m. in Margo Jones Performance Hall. The solo recital is free and open to the public; the campus community is invited to attend. The program will include April Whirlwind by American composer David Dorff; Sonata by Russian composer Otar Taktakishvili; Sonatina by Brazilian composer Guarnieri; and Joueurs de Flute (Flute Players) by French composer Albert Roussel. For details, call 8-1-2500.

*** **

/ / /

TWU Update, Oct. 4, 1999, page 5

FEDERATION SEMINAR SCHEDULED

The Federation of North Texas Area Universities will present its annual fall seminar on Fri., Oct. 8, in MCL auditorium at 8 a.m. The theme of this year's session is "Partnerships in Research and Graduate Education," and the presenter for the plenary session at noon will be Dr. Wayne Patterson, who will discuss "Partnerships and Postbaccalaureate Futures in Graduate Education." FNTAU comprises TWU, the University of North Texas and Texas A&M University-Commerce, as well as affiliate members

Dallas County Community College District, the University of Texas at Dallas and UT-Arlington.

The Toulouse scholarship luncheon will begin at noon in Hubbard Hall (the banquet room), and the guest speaker will be Dr. Steven J. Breckler, director of the social psychology program in the division of behavioral and cognitive sciences at the National Science Foundation. He will discuss "Graduate Education and Research." During the luncheon, the Robert Toulouse doctoral and master's scholarships will be presented to students pursuing a course of study in one of the federation's program areas. The awards will include a stipend of $1,000 for the doctoral recipient and $500 for the master's recipient.

*** **

NEWSBRIEFS

Information and news about activities, programs or TWU people may be sent to Ann Hatch (public information), editor, either through campus mail or by e-mail to AHatch@twu.edu or s_hatch@twu.edu. The weekly deadline to receive information is Tuesday at 5 p.m. for the following week. Student information for the "People" section is not published unless it is submitted by or in conjunction with a faculty member and that faculty member's related activities.

TWU Update is a weekly publication (posted online). The deadline to submit information is every Tuesday at 5 p.m. for the following week. Information is run on a space-available basis.

SECC reminder: Sharing information is an important part of the State Employee Charitable Campaign process, and TWU organizers have planned an agency fair on Thurs., Oct. 7, from 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. on the second floor of ACT. All faculty and staff are invited to attend and to meet representatives from various local agencies, who can share information about their organizations and services. Speaking of a fair. Everyone also is invited to have a ball -- a charity "ball" -- on Thurs., Oct. 14. A first-time SECC event, the 1999 SECC Charity Ball is "fun ball" (kinder-ball) on a volleyball court -- no experience necessary! Form a team (a minimum of four members) with students, faculty, staff and administrators and come to Pioneer Hall from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., ready to play. The entry fee is $5 per player, which includes a free T-shirt and awards for winners. If you just want to watch, bring $2. Prizes will be given, too! For a roster/ registration form, contact Raedean Bolton (financial aid) at 8-1-3052.

Get ex-CITE-d. All faculty are invited to the Center for Innovation and Teaching Excellence, CITE Connections, on Tues., Oct. 12, for a teaching roundtable. The program, titled "Teaching Controversial Topics," will be held from 7:30 to 9 a.m., CFO 13. Come for all or part of the session; a light breakfast will be provided. Call Dr. John D'Angelo (Library and Information Studies) at 8-1-2617 for more information.

continued

NEWSBRIEFS, continued

Nominations for graduate students in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges are needed by Oct. 15; send them to Dr. Veva Vonler (Graduate School). Faculty are encouraged to nominate graduate students whose academic standing, extra-curricular activities and community service are decidedly above average. Nomination forms have been sent to deans and department chairs, and they also are available in the Graduate School office, ACT 13.

Reminder: Book it to a game! The TWU Pioneers volleyball team will put a new spin on their annual invitational tournament, scheduled Oct. 8 and 9. Aside from hosting and participating in the 10-team event, the Pioneers will collect new books for TWU's Child Development Center. All children ages 12 and under who donate a new book will be admitted free to the tournament. Any donated books should be new and geared toward the age groups that the center serves (infants through five years). The books will be collected during both days of the volleyball tournament at the ticket gate in Kitty Magee Arena, located in Pioneer Hall.

National Coming Out Day will be observed at TWU on Mon., Oct. 11, from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the free speech area near the Student Center. The event will be co-sponsored by the TWU Counseling Center, office of intercultural services and office of community relations and diversity. The program will include student testimonials, a video, tables with free information and discussion by members of Parents and Friends of Lesbians and Gays. For details, call 8-1-3801.

Reminder: An exhibit titled "How the Mind Works: Recent Works on Paper by Judy Youngblood," which is free and open to the public, continues in the Arts Building through Oct. 18; the galleries are open weekdays from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Reminder: The TWU Blagg-Huey Library will host the last of several guest speakers, all of whom conducted research in the library's extensive and comprehensive Woman's Collection. The final lecture, which is free and open to the public, will begin at 2:30 p.m. in lecture hall 101 of the library on Wed., Oct. 6. Billy and Cheryl Jamison, culinary historians, researched their seventh book, American Home Cooking, in the TWU Woman's Collection, where they were "just floored" by the depth of the cookery collection. Call 8-1-3751 for details.

Reminder: An upcoming workshop for TWU faculty members in the Blagg-Huey Library will provide training on access and use of databases with full-text capabilities. The program will be held on Thurs., Oct. 7, from 4 to 6 p.m. in room 101 of the library and will be repeated on Fri., Oct. 8, from 9 to 11 a.m. in the same location. Access tools also will be discussed. For more information, contact Jimmie Lyn Harris (library) at 8-1-3740.

An orientation and Pioneer Camp evaluation and planning meeting hosted by the division of student life will be held on Thurs., Oct. 14, at 2:30 p.m., SC 006-007; all members of the campus community are invited to attend and share their feedback about programs -- and their suggestions for next year. For details, call 8-1-3601.

Reminder: TWU's Wellfest 99, presented by TWU wellness services, will be held in Denton on Tues., Oct. 5, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Wellness Center (Jones Hall). Call 8-1-2900.

Reminder: Dr. Thomas Brown (performing arts, music) will perform in a free organ recital on Tues., Oct. 5, at 8 p.m. in Margo Jones Performance Hall. For details, call 8-1-2500.

continued

/ / /

TWU Update, Oct. 4, 1999, page 7

NEWSBRIEFS, continued

Reminder: Don't be "bugged!" TWU student health services will offer its annual flu shot clinic for TWU faculty, staff and students every Wednesday in October from 4 to 6 p.m. The cost is $10, and a valid faculty/staff or student ID is required. Be prepared to stay 20 minutes following the injection. For more information, call student health services at 8-1-3826.

Reminder: The office of information technology services has scheduled several free faculty/staff training sessions from Oct. 4 to 10 in Denton. The programs will be held in SH 218; for information, call Elaine Martin (ITS) at 8-1-6693. They are listed below.

- Oct. 5 -- "COLLEAGUE: Student System Question and Answer" from 2 to 3:30 p.m.;
- Oct 7 -- "Requisition Entry and Maintenance," 9 to 10:30 a.m.; and "Travel Requisitions," 10:30 to 11 a.m.

Reminder: Faculty members are asked to remind students that they may be eligible to become members of Golden Key National Honor Society, which is conducting its annual membership drive. The honorary recognizes all outstanding juniors and seniors of all majors who have a cumulative grade point average of 3.3 and higher; the deadline to join is Oct. 20. Questions? Call the chapter advisor, Dr. Joy McGregor (Library and Information Studies) at 8-1-2612.

*** **

UPDATE ON TWU PEOPLE

Please submit "People" items (faculty and staff only) to Ann Hatch in public information by campus mail or by e-mail to AHatch@twu.edu! Include first and last names (no initials, please) and appropriate titles (ie. Dr.).

Sympathy is extended to Dr. Nancy DiMarco (nutrition and food sciences) and family members following the death of her mother, Shirley Evans, on Tues., Sept. 28. Funeral services were held in Boulder, Colo., on Thurs., Sept. 30. Donations may be made in Evans' memory to Hospice of Boulder, Colo, 2825 Marine St., Boulder, Colo. 80303.

Dr. Bettye Myers (kinesiology) has been installed as Division 39 lieutenant governor of the Texas-Oklahoma district of Kiwanis International. She has served along the way as chair of a number of committees and was president of the Denton Kiwanis Club. Her other community-based activities include the Denton Independent School District's board of directors (president), United Way of Denton County (president), the TWU Faculty Senate (speaker) and the Denton County chapter of the American Heart Association (president).

Dr. Roberta Nutt (psychology and philosophy) has written a chapter titled "Women's Gender-Role Socialization, Gender-Role Conflict and Abuse: A Review of Predisposing Factors" that was published recently in the book What Causes Men's Violence Against Women?

*** **

THIS WEEK AT TWU: OCTOBER 4 - 10, 1999

Sept. 6-Oct. 18

- Visual arts: "Beauty as a Relative Concept," featuring sculpture by Larry Kirkwood, free, west gallery, Arts Bldg., open weekdays, 9 a.m.-4 p.m.

Sept. 27-Oct. 18

- Visual arts: "How the Mind Works -p; Recent Works on Paper," by Judy Youngblood, free, east gallery, Arts Bldg., open weekdays, 9 a.m.-4 p.m.

continued

/ / /
TWU Update, Oct. 4, 1999, page 8

CALENDAR, continued

Oct. 4-7

- Library open 7:30 a.m.-10:30 p.m.; bookstore open 8 a.m.-6 p.m.; Wellness Center open 6 a.m.-10 p.m.

Mon., Oct. 4

- USA Senate meeting, 5-7 p.m., ACT 3.
- USA House of Representatives meeting, SH 402, noon-1 p.m.

Tues., Oct. 5

- Wellfest: health testing, free information and more, Wellness Center, JH1, 8 a.m.-4 p.m.
- Performing arts: organ recital, Dr. Thomas Brown, free, MJPH, 8 p.m.
- Houston: Mary Joyce Newsom lecture, MGJ 724, noon-2 p.m.
- HR: "Travel," BHL 101, 9-10:30 a.m.
- HR: "Accounts Payable," BHL 101, 2-3:30 p.m.
- ITS: "COLLEAGUE: Student System Question and Answer," SH 281, 2-3:30 p.m.

Wed., Oct. 6

- Library: Woman's Collection lecture, free, BHL 101, 2:30 p.m.
- Flu shot clinic, student health services, $10 for campus, 4-6 p.m.
- Alumni/COLORS panel, Alumni House, 6:30-8 p.m.

Oct. 6-9

- Performing arts, drama: Twelfth Night, Redbud Theatre; adults, $10; TWU faculty/staff and seniors, $7; TWU students, $5; 8 p.m.

Thurs., Oct. 7

- Last day to drop a class without academic penalty.
- SECC agency fair, ACT 2, 9 a.m.-1:30 p.m.
- HR: "Budgeting," ACT 501, 10-11:30 a.m.
- Faculty workshop: "Use of Databases with Full-Text Capabilities," BHL 101, 4 to 6 p.m. in room 101 of the library (repeated on Fri., Oct. 8, from 9 to 11 a.m., same location).
- ITS: "Requisition Entry and Maintenance," SH 218, 9-10:30 a.m.; and "Travel Requisitions," SH 218, 10:30-11 a.m.

Fri., Oct. 8

- Library open 7:30 a.m.-9 p.m.; bookstore open 8 a.m.-5 p.m.; Wellness Center open 6 a.m.-10 p.m.
- Faculty Senate meeting, HH south foyer, 10 a.m.
- Volleyball: TWU Invitational -- "Bring a kid and bring a book!" (ages 12 and under free with book donation; for TWU Child Development Center) -- PH, Pioneers vs. Midwestern, 1 p.m.; TWU vs. Tarleton State, 7 p.m.
- Undergraduate Who's Who applications due, student life.
- HR: "Communicating for Results," Houston, MGJ 928, 9 a.m.-noon

Sat., Oct. 9

- Library open 9 a.m.-6 p.m.; Wellness Center open 8 a.m.-6 p.m.
- TWU Open House for prospective students -p; general information, plus health sciences, nursing, PT and OT, ADM 1st floor, 8 a.m.-noon.
- Volleyball: TWU Invitational -- "Bring a kid and bring a book!" to PH, Pioneers vs. Arkansas Tech, 1 p.m.; TWU vs. E. New Mex., 7 p.m.

Sun., Oct. 10

- Library open 2 p.m.-midnight; Wellness Center open 1-6 p.m.
- Performing arts, drama: Twelfth Night, Redbud Theatre; adults, $10; TWU faculty/staff and seniors, $7; TWU students, $5; 2 p.m.

*** **

/ / /