Classroom Teacher at J. Erik Jonsson Community School

Operated by the Salesmanship Club Youth and Family Centers (SCYFC), a not-for-profit organization serving children and families since 1920, the J. Erik Jonsson Community School (JEJCS), is an accredited laboratory school educating 232 inner city children three years of age through fifth grade. The Jonsson School seeks to make a transforming difference in the lives of children and their families. JEJCS has a proven track record of excellence, demonstrating that children living in urban and low income settings are just as capable of remarkable achievements when participating in a true community school grounded in these principles and processes:

- Relationship-based learning
- Brain-compatible teaching and learning
- A focus on strengths and the needs of students and families
- Ongoing data analysis and program improvement
- Excellence in governance and leadership

The Jonsson School is seeking highly-qualified, experienced teachers who will be a part of this dynamic learning community.
