

U.S. Women of Colors

Texas Woman's University

Women's Studies 5463-50 (Course Code: 36952)

Spring 2010, Internet (2 f2f meetings 1-3:50 p.m. on 1/23 & 4/17)

Course Description:

This course centers women of color within feminist theories by exploring their particular histories, cultures, experiences, and political relationships to dominant cultures. Major themes include: alternative historical consciousness, theories of oppression and power, identity politics, consciousness raising, mixed race theories, third wave feminism, sexuality, critical thinking and strengthening academic writing skills.

Books:

Evelyn Nakano Glenn, Unequal Freedom: How Race and Gender Shaped American Citizenship and Labor

Gloria Anzaldua, ed., Making Face, Making Soul Haciendo Caras

Gloria Anzaldua & AnaLouise Keating, ed., This Bridge We Call Home

Gina Masequesmay & Sean Metzger, ed., Embodying Asian/American Sexualities

Joy Zarembka, The Pigment of Your Imagination: Mixed Race in a Global Society

Anthony Marx, Making Race and Nation: A Comparison of the United States, South Africa, and Brazil

Stuart Greene & April Lidinsky, From Inquiry to Academic Writing

U.S. Women of Colors is required for the M.A. degree in Women's Studies.

For information contact Dr. Beverly Yuen Thompson at bevyuen@gmail.com.