The Senate shall reapportion itself for each annual election of Senators in accordance with the Constitution and Bylaws.

In order to maintain a constant number of 30 members in the Senate, an apportionment ratio of number of voting faculty to number of Senators shall be set before each regular annual Spring election using the following formula:

Section 5. Terms of Office

The terms of office for Faculty Senators will be staggered so as to permit the election of one-half of the Senate (or, if the Senate size is an odd number, as close to one-half as possible) each year. A member may be reelected for two consecutive terms. If a Senator is elected by special election to fill an unexpired term having less than one year remaining, that Senator may be elected for three more consecutive terms.

The Senate Elections Committee will have the responsibility of ensuring that the terms of service will be staggered.

Section 6. Voting Units

Should a reorganization of the University result in the addition, merger, or elimination of any of the schools or colleges, the Faculty Senate shall have the power to add, delete, or reconfigure representation from voting units to conform with the reorganization of the university.

Section 7. Apportionment

(a) The census of the voting units shall be determined by the number of qualified voting faculty as defined in the Constitution. The apportionment for each regular annual Spring election of Senators shall be made on the basis of the voting faculty census that Spring, unless otherwise determined by the Senate. The apportionment shall be determined by the Elections Committee.

(b) For the purpose of determining the apportionment

apportionment ratio = $\frac{\text{total number of voting faculty}}{30}$ The resulting apportionment ratio shall be rounded to the nearest whole number. The voting faculty of each voting unit shall elect one Senator for each apportioned group of voting faculty members, or major fraction thereof, as determined by the apportionment ratio, but not fewer than one Senator. In recognition of the multi-campus nature of the University, voting units having voting faculty assigned to two or more campuses shall elect Senators from those respective campuses according to the apportionment ratio, but the representation of the voting unit shall not exceed the total number of Senators to which the voting unit as a whole is entitled.	ratio, full-time professional librarians and academic faculty and clinical faculty with the rank of professor, associate professor, assistant professor, instructor, and lecturer are counted, as long as they are employed a minimum of one-half time. Faculty members having an appointment of as much as one-half time will count as one-half toward the unit’s census in determining the apportionment ratio; faculty with an appointment of more than one-half will count as one person in the voting unit census. Other faculty are not counted. (c) Persons having joint appointments in more than one department shall vote and be counted in the census of the voting unit in which the highest percentage of their time is assigned; persons whose appointment is 50 per cent in each of two voting units will be assigned to a voting unit by the Elections Committee unless that Committee is notified of a choice prior to an apportionment. (d) A voting unit may not elect more than one Senator from any one department unless a department exceeds the apportionment ratio by a major fraction (greater than 50%). (e) Elected Senators shall not be removed from their Senate seat prior to the end of the term to which elected because of a decline in the census of the voting unit by which elected. (f) Questions or appeals relating to the actions taken under the Constitution and Bylaws of the Faculty Senate regarding elections shall be directed to and settled by the Senate Elections Committee, subject to appeal to the Senate. An individual who wishes to appeal a decision made by the Elections Committee must submit a letter to the Speaker of the Faculty Senate with a rationale for requesting said appeal within 14 calendar days of notification of the Elections Committee’s decision. Removal. The absence of a Senator from three regular meetings of the Senate during the academic year, without reasonable cause,	Faculty Senate, which will discuss the report at the next regular meeting of the Faculty Senate and render a final decision. (g) Whenever a component is established, eliminated, or merged within a college or school, the Faculty Senate shall then reapportion members according to the method of apportionment established in the Constitution and Bylaws of the Faculty Senate. Section 8. Vacancies Special elections will be held as needed to fill vacancies. When such vacancies occur, the Elections Committee shall notify the affected voting unit within seven days of the determination of the vacancy, and the voting unit involved shall elect the replacement within a time schedule established by the Elections Committee and following the nomination and election procedures prescribed herein for regular elections. shall constitute cause for removal of the Senator from the Senate.

Section 10. Resignation
 Senators who are leaving the University or who can no longer serve as Senators shall submit to the Speaker, as much in advance as possible, a written letter of resignation indicating the effective date of resignation.

Section 10. Resignation
 When a Senator resigns from the Senate, the Speaker shall notify the Secretary and the Chair of the Elections Committee of the resignation and the effective date. If the resignation will be effective at the end of an academic year, the election of a Senator to fill the vacant position will occur as part of the regular Spring Senate elections, if possible. At other times of the year, the replacement Senator will be elected by special election within two months of the resignation, excepting summer months.
 Should no letter of resignation be received from someone who is known to no longer be a member of the faculty, then the Speaker can declare the vacancy.

ARTICLE V: NOMINATIONS AND ELECTIONS OF SENATORS

Section 1. Regular elections for Senators shall be held each Spring semester. The voting faculty shall nominate and elect members to the Faculty Senate in all the voting units in which the terms of Senators are expiring. The elections shall be completed by the date of the regular May meeting of the Senate. Elections may be held either by paper ballot or by using electronic means.

ARTICLE V: NOMINATIONS AND ELECTIONS OF SENATORS

Section 1. Nominations

(a) The Elections Committee will conduct all Senate elections as specified below.

(b) Following the apportionment of seats by the Senate in the Spring, the Elections Committee will notify each voting unit in which Senators' terms are expiring as to the number of Senators to be elected and will provide a list of the persons within the voting unit who will be eligible for election to the Senate. The Elections Committee will establish deadlines for nominations for Senators in each voting unit in which Senators are to be elected. The committee will specify which, if any, positions are to be filled from any particular campus.

(c) The Elections Committee will request the voting faculty of each voting unit to nominate candidates for the Senate positions to be filled in that voting unit. Nomination is made by sending the name of the nominee, along with a consent-to-serve form signed by the nominee, to the chair of the Elections Committee. When asking for nominations, the Elections Committee will notify the voting units of the deadline for making such nominations.

Section 2. Elections

(a) The Elections Committee will oversee this election process, using either paper ballots or electronic means. In either format, names of all nominees who under the constitution are eligible to serve in the Senate shall be included.

that election is secret, whether the election employs paper or electronic. Notification will be sent to each voting unit of the time and place for the counting of ballots, and one representative of the voting unit may observe the counting of the ballots. This representative will be determined by the members within the voting unit; the method used will be at the discretion of the voting unit. Prior to tally of the ballots, the Elections Committee must be notified in writing by the component head as to the selection utilized and the individual selected.

(c) In voting units where only one Senator is to be elected, the vote will be by simple majority. In the event no candidate receives a majority, the names of the candidates with the highest and next highest number of votes shall remain on the ballot and a second secret-ballot vote will be taken. In case of a tie vote in the second election, the winner will be determined by lot. In voting units or campuses where more than one Senator is to be elected, voters may vote for as many candidates as there are positions to be filled. The votes received by each candidate will be tallied, and those candidates receiving the largest number of votes will be declared elected, subject to the possibility of a run-off election if two or more candidates tie in votes for a position to be filled, and subject further, when applicable, to the provision of Article IV, Section 7d of the Bylaws. When this section applies, after all the candidates permitted to be elected from a single department have been elected, other candidates from that department receiving votes that would otherwise be sufficient for election will be stricken from the list of those being elected.

(d) The Elections Committee will inform the voting unit of the names of the persons elected, will inform the persons elected, and will give the same information to the Secretary of the Senate. In the event of a demand for a recount of the votes
