

Contributors

Pamela Hernandez Chavez (Benjamin Franklin: Deist or Not?) is an undergraduate History major at Texas Woman's University and a member of the Eta Nu Chapter of Phi Alpha Theta.

Jacob L. Emory (May We be Strengthened in Times of Trial: Elizabeth Drinker, the American Revolution, and the Feminine Sphere) is a MA candidate in History at Texas Woman's University and a member of the Eta Nu Chapter of Phi Alpha Theta.

Ronald Frankland (Communicating the Lessons of Chastity: The Lady's Magazine August 1770- July 1771) is a M.A. candidate in History at Texas Woman's University.

Alec Head (Perjurius Maleficis: The Great Salem Scapegoat) is a Master's candidate in Library and Information Science at Texas Woman's University and a member of the Eta Nu Chapter of Phi Alpha Theta. A version of this paper was presented at the 2018 Biennial Phi Alpha Theta Convention in New Orleans, Louisiana.

Megan Joblin (Women of the Shadows: Propaganda vs. Reality in the Berachah Industrial Home for the Redemption of Erring Girls, 1915-1920) is a MA candidate in History at Texas Woman's University and a member of the Eta Nu Chapter of Phi Alpha Theta. A version of this paper was presented at the 2018 Biennial Phi Alpha Theta Convention in New Orleans, Louisiana in January 2018 and at the 2018 North Central Texas Regional Phi Alpha Theta History Conference in Commerce, Texas in April 2018.

Melissa Queen (Victorian Prostitution: A Historiographic Analysis) is a M.A. candidate in History at Texas Woman's University and a member of the Eta Nu Chapter of Phi Alpha Theta.

Stormy Sykes (Benjamin Franklin's Masks: A Historiographic Essay) is a M.A. candidate in History at Texas Woman's University and a member of the Eta Nu Chapter of Phi Alpha Theta.

Aaron James Whiting (Armaments for the Daughters of Zion: The Puritan Woman and her Spiritual Authority over the Physical World) is a M.A. candidate in History at Texas Woman's University and a member of the Eta Nu Chapter of Phi Alpha Theta.